Hello Quilting Friends,

Summer is in full swing now that it's August. I hope you are all enjoying the beautiful weather and doing things outdoors to enjoy it to the fullest. I'm so excited to hold our first in person meeting coming up on Thursday August 5.

We'll be opening the doors at 5:30 p.m. and starting the meeting at 6 p.m., 30 minutes earlier than in the past. You'll be introduced to our new board plus we have a great speaker. Please bring your two show-and-tell items to share at the meeting, as well as your membership form (on page 8 of the newsletter) and your check if you have not already renewed.

It'll be great to see everyone in person after so long.

Starting in September, we'll be moving to day-time meetings. The dates will remain the same, and the details of the time will be sent as soon as they are finalized. This change is being made based on the preference of those who returned the survey.

With best regards,

Frannie Marr

FQG President

Minutes from the General Meeting

Fallbrook Quilt Guild July 8, 2021

The meeting was called to order at 6:09 pm by Ardis Duhachek, host for this meeting. Frannie Marr, our new president, introduced herself. She is a new quilter and has been a member of the Guild for 2 years; she has lived in Fallbrook for 7 years.

New officers were announced: Treasurer Barbara Anderson, Membership Co-chairs Linda Rosensteel and Barbara Erickson, Secretary Tricia Voight, Ways and Means Penny Bottomly. There is still a need for a chairman of the Hostess Committee. Anyone interested please let Frannie know.

Treasurer's report was given: ending balance from income was $1250 for the year; $4648.28 expenses; $33,817.76 current balance. Fifteen memberships have been received as of today. (See Budget Worksheet at end of newsletter.)

Karen Johnston, our new VP, is working on increasing more social activities for meetings. Ardis reported the new officer installation will take place at the August 5 meeting. Dixie Johns reported on Quilts of Love. She received three new quilts this month for a total of 206 quilts turned in for past year. The business meeting then concluded.

Patricia Belyea, our evening speaker, was introduced. Her topic was Japanese textiles and Okan Arts. After a trip to Japan, her quilting was positively influenced by the techniques she observed. Patricia shared many interesting facts about the Tokyo Quilt Festival 2020, the largest quilt festival in the world. It features many levels of competition of different styles of quilting using a variety of fabrics and techniques. There is also an international exhibit, which hosted the Quilters Guild of the UK this year. Patricia gave us some interesting facts about quilting in Japan. Quilting came to Japan In 1976. There are more quilters in Japan than the U.S. Quilt shops don't exist in Japan. To study quilting one must sign up with a sensei (teacher) and pay to attend their workshop. After 5 years you may be called a quilter. As a member of one sensei's group, you cannot attend any other classes, or you will be expelled by your sensei.

Patricia developed a style of curved piecing influenced by Japanese quilting. Using a background fabric, she slices curves creating a design and then pieces in the featured fabric. It appears like bias applique, but fabric is actually sewn into the background. Okan Arts is the business Patricia owns with her daughter Victoria.

The meeting ended with Show and Tell with work from Tricia Voight, Bev Aguilar, Addie Matcham, Charlotte Seidman, and Sandy Scott. The meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

Tricia Voight

Programs

Hooray, our first live and in-person meeting in ages!
Our speaker is Allyson Allen of Sun City and her program is 51 FUN WAYS TO USE FABRIC YO-YOS.

Allyson, who first learned to sew as a child from her mother and an older sister, has taught quilting in many settings including women's shelters, public and private schools, and in as many as three different prison institutions for the California Youth Authority. Allyson has continued the family tradition by teaching her nieces, Krysta and Madison Wright, to quilt while imparting important lessons in family and African-American history. She uses traditional materials to create unique, dimensional textile art, quilts, dolls, and handmade books.

Allyson shares: "Three years of my Special Exhibits for Mancuso Quilt Shows are photo-documented in my book, Quilted Pages – Story Art Quilts.

My second project and pattern book is *CLOTH*PAPER* STITCH&GLUE - Mixed Media Projects & Altered Book Art*. My fun quilt pattern line is 'Run With Scissors.'

Dates to remember:

- *September 9 – Trudy Cleveland; how to update your quilt toolbox!
- October 2 & 3 – Workshops (extracurricular)
- *October 7 – Mini Quilt Show

Memo from Membership

At long last, our Guild is back in action! We want to welcome all our renewing members and look forward to meeting you. Our annual membership dues are now $50. You can print and fill out the Member Form below (page 8 of the newsletter), and send it along with your check, payable to the Fallbrook Quilt Guild (please do not abbreviate and use FQG, because the bank will not honor that) at P.O. Box 1704, Fallbrook CA. Note that the ZIP for this P.O. Box is 92088, NOT 92028.

You can also pay in person at our first face-to-face meeting, which will be August 5th at the Fallbrook Community Center. Doors will open at 5:30 pm and the meeting will start at 6 pm, which is 30 minutes earlier than in the past.

A Message from Valley of the Mist Quilters in Temecula

Greetings from your sister guild! We're excited to be meeting again after so long on Zoom. I'd like to let your members know about a FREE exhibit coming to the Temecula Valley Museum next month: "Stitching California" will showcase over 40 art quilts and textile pieces celebrating California. It runs from August 29th to October 24th. The Temecula Valley Museum is in Sam Hicks Park, which is on the north end of Old Town Temecula.

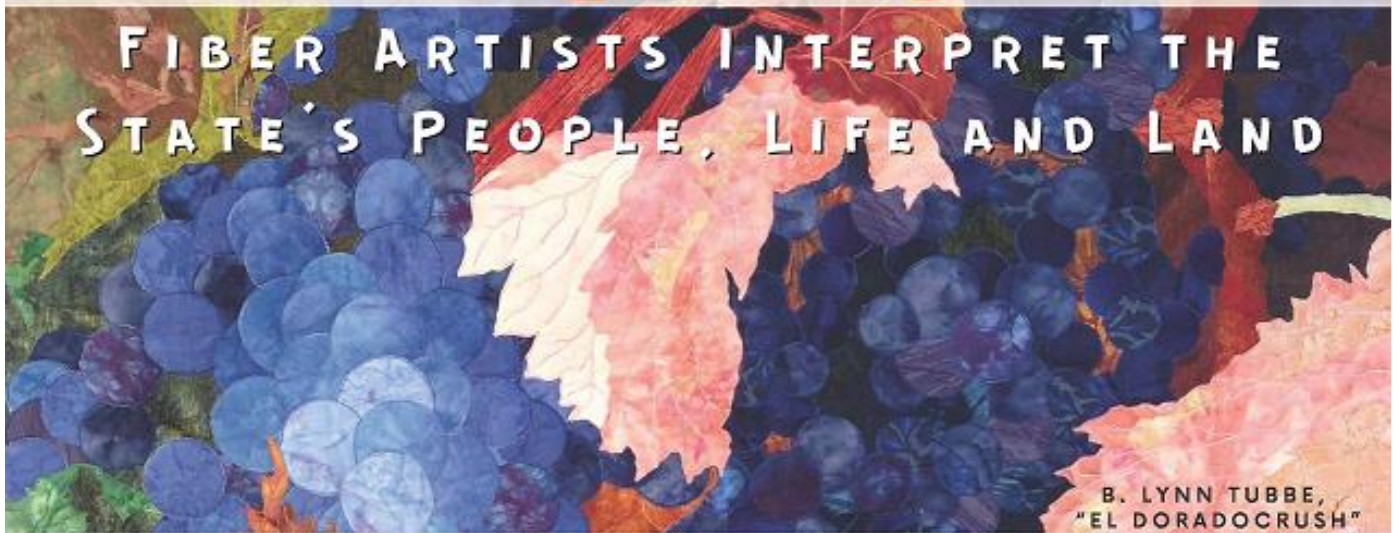

This is a great opportunity to see some quilts and perhaps enjoy lunch in Old Town Temecula.

Thanks, and please feel free to reach out to us if you have events you'd like to publicize. The Temecula guild is Valley of the Mist Quilters, and we can be reached at info@valleyofthemistquilters.com
